Bernie Rhodes Interviewed by Kansas City's Fox Station on Net Neutrality

December 8, 2017

Bernie Rhodes spoke with WDAF-Fox 4 on an upcoming vote by the Federal Communications Commission on net neutrality. Net neutrality currently requires cable companies and other internet service providers to treat content providers (like Facebook or Netflix) the same. That could change if the FCC decides to repeal net neutrality. Click here to see the interview.