Aimee Davenport, Kurt Schaefer Present at 2010 Missouri Water Seminar

September 21, 2010

Lathrop Gage attorneys Aimee Davenport and Kurt Schaefer (Environmental - Jefferson City), will participate as panelists at the Fifth Annual 2010 Missouri Water Seminar on September 21-22, 2010, in Columbia, Mo. They will hold discussions regarding "Affordability Considerations in Clean Water Act Compliance" and "State of Water in Missouri," respectively. The conference is administered by the Regulatory Environmental Group of Missouri and co-sponsored by Missouri Association of Sewer Districts, St. Louis Regional Commerce & Growth Association, Missouri Chamber of Commerce & Industry, Missouri Public Utility Alliance, Greater Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, Missouri Water Environment Federation, and Associated Industries of Missouri.

The firm's Jefferson City and Columbia attorneys regularly participate in complaint cases before the Missouri Public Service Commission, the Missouri Department of Natural Resources, the Missouri Department of Insurance and all the other Executive Departments and have represented clients with regulatory issues before the Missouri Court of Appeals and the Missouri Supreme Court. From mid-Missouri the firm is able to serve clients who have a critical need for legal services involving the State of Missouri legislature, elected offices and administrative agencies. Over the past 20 years, Lathrop Gage has appeared in every major rate case in Missouri involving gas, electric or telephone service.

About Lathrop Gage:
A leading full-service law firm, Lathrop Gage LLP has 300 attorneys in 11 offices nationwide – from Los Angeles to New York. In 2010, Chambers USA ranked Lathrop Gage's corporate, environmental, intellectual property, litigation, real estate and labor and employment teams among the best in their region. For more information, visit www.lathropgage.com.