Lathrop GPM Litigation & Dispute Resolution Partner Brian Dillon recently spoke with Minnesota Lawyer, discussing his past experience as a high school teacher, recent reads and raising young kids.

Break the ice with one of the firm's two Minnesota-area lawyers to have been recently recognized by The Hennepin County Bar Association with "Excellence Awards" for pro bono service in representing Common Cause Minnesota, OneMinnesota.org and Voices for Racial Justice before a five-judge redistricting panel in January. Dillon and Lathrop GPM associate Amy Erickson were both honored with the 2022 awards for their outstanding pro bono efforts.

"Any time you can do public interest work that makes you feel like you're trying to make the justice system, our democratic system of government a little bit better and more responsive, then so much the better," Dillon said.
