Policyholders whose businesses have been interrupted as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic have made claims under their property insurance policies for loss of business income, but they are almost universally denied. As the insurance they may have assumed would protect them is not responding, state legislatures have begun to step in on their behalf. Join Lathrop GPM Insurance Recovery Partner Alexandra Roje for an up-to-date summary and analysis of those legislative efforts and their potential impact on policyholders' claims for lost business income.

This webinar is available for no cost.

One hour of CLE credit will be applied for in Minnesota, Missouri, and Kansas.
