WHEN ASKED ...

Why did you become a lawyer?

I somewhat stumbled into the legal profession. I was born in Japan and grew up in Australia. I completed high school in the U.S. and went to college in Chicago. I was a foreign student looking to further my U.S.-based education. Law was an interesting area to study. Once I got to law school, something clicked, and I never looked back.

What do you do outside of work?

I love doing things with my wife and three daughters. We have family in Kansas, Texas, Japan, and Italy, so there is lots of traveling. Otherwise, my passion is music. I've played the guitar in many bands until COVID hit. I hope to do so again soon as I am an active participant in the regional music scene.
