Scott H. Malin

Partner | scott.malin@lathropgpm.com

Offering value-added counsel for high-net worth clients and closely held businesses, savvy navigation of the ever-changing tax landscape, and sophisticated tax planning techniques, Scott Malin assists with the intergenerational transfer of wealth structured to reduce tax implications for his clients' businesses and their families.

Scott's wealth strategies practice focuses on business succession planning, estate planning, tax planning and charitable planning for individuals, privately held businesses and families. Scott counsels clients on the preservation and transfer of wealth in a tax-efficient manner and advises business owners on the transition of ownership, management and control of private businesses.

According to Chambers USA, which ranks the top U.S. lawyers and law firms, fellow attorneys say about Scott: "He understands the sophisticated issues in this area," and "He is a really smart lawyer with many good business-related clients."

Scott is a member of Lathrop GPM's Executive Committee. Additionally, he is an Adjunct Professor in Washington University School of Law's Master of Laws (LL.M.) in Taxation program, where he teaches a class in Closely Held Business and Succession Planning.

Scott is a frequent lecturer and speaker on succession planning, estate planning and tax issues for various organizations including The Missouri Bar, The Bar Association of Metropolitan St. Louis, and the University of Missouri - Kansas City. He has authored articles for such publications as Estate Planning, the Journal of Taxation, The St. Louis Bar Journal, Probate & Property, and Practical Tax Strategies, and has

Representative Experience

- Worked with family business owners for orderly transition of ownership to second generation while minimizing estate and gift tax. Also restructured the business to change the tax status to subchapter S corporation and reduce the potential income tax liability to the family.
- Worked with three generations of family members, many of whom were involved in the business, to structure a transaction and buy-sell agreement to the satisfaction of all owners. The terms of the agreement addressed the transition of business management and ownership to ensure orderly succession of the business.
- Worked with wealthy individual to substantially reduce estate taxes by creating various partnerships, grantor retained annuity trusts, installment sale of assets to a grantor trust, and split interest purchase of a residence, along with life insurance planning.
- Handled estate tax audit for estate with significant assets. Audit related to valuation of several closely held business interests, which included the sale of interests to a grantor trust and the discounted valuation of the promissory note.
- Oversaw the sale of a family-owned business valued at $100 million. Work included pre-sale planning involving the creation of trusts and transfer of assets to ensure significant estate tax savings for the client.
- Restructured businesses to facilitate intergenerational transfers of wealth, including buy-out provisions, for a high-net worth family who owns multiple companies and several parcels of related real estate.
