Over the past year, the federal government has issued new requirements and guidance concerning how institutions should prevent, respond to, and remedy instances of sexual misconduct on campus. In addition, the public eye has increased its scrutiny of institutions' practices as news of mishandled complaints and resulting lawsuits fills the press. In light of these pressures placed on institutions, we are offering a 60-minute training for senior leadership on campus to assist in understanding at a high level their institutions' obligations and risks followed by a 30-minute Q&A Session.

This training will cover:

- An overview of Title IX, the Campus SaVE Act and other applicable laws
- New requirements for institutions
- Responsibilities of your institution's Title IX team
- Legal risks
- Effective leadership strategies

Participants will leave this training with a better understanding of their institutions' current obligations and their role in leading their administrations in implementing effective compliance plans.
