Compliance is one of the more arcane aspects of nonprofit management and fundraising. Yet, it is one of the most important. The rules in this area can be complex and state and federal regulators continue to prioritize oversight of charitable assets. Join us on July 26 for a panel discussing various state and federal requirements that apply to many of our nonprofit clients, and share tips and best practices for how you can ensure that your organization is toeing the line. Gray Plant Mooty attorneys Sheryl Morrison, Catherine Bitzan Amundsen, and Sarah Duniway will cover, among other things, the following:

- Corporate formalities and state filings
- State attorney general reporting
- Fundraising registrations and gift annuity regulations
- IRS receipts and other donation requirements
- Other IRS reporting requirements
