

Cheddar News Interviews Laura Reathaford on the Employment Impact of Omicron

January 3, 2022

Laura Reathaford appeared on a segment of Cheddar News' "Closing Bell with Kristen Scholer," which covered employment-related impacts of the Omicron variant on business operations across the country. Laura discussed the legality of requiring negative COVID testing in the workplace, federal mandates for businesses to require employee vaccines, and employer flexibility in response to the ever-changing national health climate.
