

Robyn Anderson a Featured Speaker at RIMS Seminar

February 29, 2008

Robyn Anderson (Kansas City - Business Litigation, Insurance) was a featured speaker at "Education Day 2008," a Risk and Insurance Management Society (RIMS) Seminar that took place in February in Overland Park, Kan. Faculty for the day, in addition to Anderson, included insurance executives from major companies and experts in the field, each speaking on topics related to their specialty.

Anderson's presentation featured on additional insured coverage, a common risk transfer method frequently used but often misunderstood. What is an additional insured? She examined for seminar attendees the potential pitfalls of additional insured status from the perspective of both the policyholder and the additional insured. She also explored additional insured status and certificates of insurance, including how to maximize rights under contractual liability and additional insured coverage.

RIMS is a not-for-profit organization that advances the practice of risk management. Founded in 1950, RIMS serves over 10,000 risk management professionals around the world.
