

Giulio DeConti and Brian Trinque Recognized by Massachusetts Super Lawyers

October 25, 2011

BOSTON (October 25, 2011) – Super Lawyers magazine recently recognized two Lathrop Gage partners in its 2011 honors for Massachusetts. For intellectual property, Giulio DeConti (Intellectual Property – Boston) was recognized as a Super Lawyer, and Brian Trinque (Intellectual Property – Boston) was selected as a “Rising Star.”

DeConti has more than 25 years of experience practicing intellectual property law and specializes in intellectual property strategy in biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, and chemistry. He has been selected to the Massachusetts Super Lawyers list since 2005, has received a Martindale-Hubbell “AV” rating, was named among the 2011-2012 Best Lawyers in America, and named a “Leading Lawyer” by Chambers USA.

Trinque focuses his practice on intellectual property law in the pharmaceutical and chemical arts. He holds a Ph.D. in organic chemistry and has experience in patent preparation, prosecution, and opinion work. He frequently lectures on recent advances in life science cases from the Federal Circuit.

Super Lawyers selection process is based on a statewide nomination process; evaluation of candidates based on 12 indicators of peer recognition and professional achievement including verdicts and settlements, transactions, pro bono and community service, representative clients, and experience; peer review by practice area; and independent third-party research on each candidate. Selections are made on an annual, state-by-state basis.

About Lathrop Gage LLP:

A full-service law firm, Lathrop Gage LLP has more than 320 attorneys in 12 offices nationwide – from Los Angeles to New York. In 2011, Chambers USA ranked Lathrop Gage’s corporate, environmental, intellectual property, labor and employment, litigation, real estate and transportation teams among the best in their regions. For more information, visit www.lathropgage.com.