

In Memoriam – Andy Andrews (1939-2017)

December 29, 2017

Longtime Gray Plant Mooty attorney Andy Andrews died Friday, Dec. 22, 2017 at the age of 78.

Born Albert Andrews, Jr. on Dec. 19, 1939 in New York, N.Y., Andy contributed much to the legal profession and to the communities in which he lived.

Andy joined Gray Plant Mooty on Sept. 1, 1985. At the firm, he served as a principal attorney in the practice areas of business law, and trusts and estates. He also was a past chair of the Trust, Estate & Charitable Planning Practice Group. In addition to practicing law, he taught law. He served his law school alma mater, the University of Minnesota, as a longtime business law lecturer and department chair. Andy began teaching business law at the university in 1968-1969—just a few years after he graduated from law school and was admitted to the Minnesota bar (both in 1966). His commitment to teaching also brought him to the Warsaw School of Economics in Poland where he served as a visiting professor of business law.

In addition to practicing law and teaching law, Andy served the community in various ways. He contributed his time and talents to a vast number of organizations in Minnesota, Wyoming, Arizona and elsewhere. In 2016 Andy was recognized with the Russell M. Bennett Service to Community Award at Gray Plant Mooty—an award that honors individuals at the firm whose caring spirit and personal passion for service leads them to serve others in effective ways behind the scenes, or by taking leadership roles, that make a difference in the lives of others.

"Andy exemplified the spirit of the award," said Ann Burns, a longtime colleague and principal attorney at Gray Plant Mooty. "He was involved for many years in a broad spectrum of community and national service that made a positive difference in the lives of countless people. Throughout his life, he remained involved with many organizations. Andy was the type of person who couldn't help but become involved in his community and the people and places he was passionate about."
