

US Department of Justice vs. Apple Inc.

July 10, 2013

"In a civil antitrust suit, the district court ruled that Apple had conspired with five book publishers in order to increase the price of e-books for consumers, in a case that sees vertical pricing conduct subject to the per se rule..."

The full article is attached.