Kansas Supreme Court Reverses Jury Award in BTK Case Truth a Defense to the Tort of Outrage

In its recent opinion in Valadez v. Emmis Communications, et al., the Kansas Supreme Court set aside what was originally a $1.1 million jury verdict for a plaintiff who had brought claims for invasion of privacy, outrage, and defamation against a television station that had identified him as a suspected serial killer. 2010 WL 1728531, *1 (Kan. April 30, 2010). Read more ...
