Labor & Employment

We employ the proactive strategies and swift responsiveness that it takes to help businesses of all sizes grow, maintain and protect a strong workforce.

Your employees are among your greatest investments. In fact, a recent Gallup Business Journal poll confirms that companies of all sizes with a strong and engaged workforce experience stronger productivity and profitability than those that don't – even during challenging economic times. This is true whether your business is a small privately held company in growth mode, a mission-driven nonprofit organization, a health care organization with affiliates and physician partners, a higher education institution, or an established manufacturer with global operations. When it comes to protecting your investment in your workforce, minimizing risks and positioning your company for maximum productivity and profitability, the experienced labor and employment lawyers at Lathrop GPM can help you.

Our labor and employment attorneys regularly help clients:

- Create proactive employment strategies and implement best practices and policies;
- Ensure workers are properly classified as contract, part-time and full-time employees, and hourly or salaried employees;
- Navigate complicated labor issues, including labor negotiations and providing union avoidance strategies;
- Stay in compliance with the complex maze of federal, state and local employment regulations;
- Manage immigration issues to help attract talent from other countries and avoid the immigration violations that lead to costly sanctions;
- Respond swiftly and assertively when employment disputes arise, from defending discrimination, harassment, or wage and hour claims, to pursuing trade secret and noncompetition violations, in both formal litigation and less formal settings.

Our labor and employment attorneys represent and regularly advise businesses such as:

- Emerging growth, privately held and established mid-sized companies, including working closely on an ongoing basis as employment law advisors to HR leaders with respect to hiring, discipline and termination; policies and procedures; safety compliance; training; immigration compliance and more.
- Manufacturers, engineering firms and software and technology businesses, including litigating trade secret and confidential business information misappropriation claims, or noncompete claims.
  - Read a case study describing the $22 million trade secret verdict we helped a manufacturing client achieve.
- Higher education institutions, including advising on issues related to promotions and tenure decisions, terminations and nonrenewals of tenured and tenure-track faculty, immigration compliance, compensation and benefits, and collective bargaining.
  - Read more about our unique trainED™ higher education employment compliance program.
- Health care providers, including structuring and enforcing noncompetition agreements within physician groups.
- Employers in employment litigation, class action, collective action and multi-plaintiff lawsuits across the nation.
- ESG Guidance.
- Nonprofit entities.

The Modern Workplace blog

Our attorneys regularly provide updates on current issues in labor and employment law on the firm's The Modern Workplace blog, which is focused on providing insightful analysis, updates and practical guidance on labor and employment legal developments affecting employers across the country.

Employment Law Alliance (ELA)

Our firm is the select member (for western Missouri, Minnesota, and Kansas) of the Employment Law Alliance, the world's largest network of employment lawyers. It offers the most comprehensive and cost-effective way for multi-national employers to ensure legal compliance around the globe. The ELA consists of more than 3,000 labor and employment lawyers in 135 countries, working together as a "virtual" international law firm.
