Amy Crea is an associate practicing in the firm's Private Client Services practice group. Amy represents families, fiduciaries and business owners in matters including estate and trust administration, estate planning, charitable giving and business succession planning. Amy joined the firm after her time as a summer associate in 2023.

Amy earned her J.D. from the Mitchell Hamline School of Law, where she graduated in the top third of her class. During her time in law school, Amy developed her advocacy skills as an active member of the Uvaldo Herrera National Moot Court Competition.

Prior to law school, Amy earned a Bachelor of Arts in Economics and Political Science from the University of St. Thomas. She further enriched her academic experience with a semester abroad at John Cabot University in Rome.

In her free time, Amy enjoys cooking new recipes and trying new restaurants in the Twin Cities with her friends and family.
