Cory Mickels' practice encompasses employment counseling and litigation, as well as business and commercial litigation for clients across diverse industries. From individual complaints to complex class actions, in both state and federal court, Cory has successfully dealt with cases involving discrimination, harassment, retaliation, wage and hour, wrongful termination and PAGA violations.

In addition to complex employment law cases, Cory has litigated high-stakes breach of contract disputes and trademark infringement battles, consistently safeguarding his clients' interests and securing favorable outcomes.

Whether navigating high-stakes litigation or intricate legal disputes, Cory's dedication establishes him as a trusted advisor and staunch advocate for those confronting legal obstacles.

Beyond the law, Cory is committed to community service. He serves as the Board President for an award winning nonprofit, Open Door Legal, dedicated to providing universal access to the law. He is also the Board Secretary for SMART (Student Mentor & Resource Team), a nonprofit championing education equity for students on the journey to college. He serves on the audit committee for Live Oak School, an organization focused on empowering K-8 students. Additionally, he serves as a committee member for Bay Area Rapid Transit's (BART) Equity Advisory Committee.
